

Not exactly the prepared type? Then maybe a free

Improv

workshop is for you. We'll meet

Every Sunday

to workshop improvisational theater / comedy, from

5-7p at the (new) AA Civic Theater Rehearsal Space (door nearest 3rd & Huron)

A workshop for all levels of experience in improvisational theater, with an eye toward creating a performance troupe. After a few meetings we'll split into different classes based on skill, and those of the more experienced level will take turns leading classes for the less experienced. In return the beginner group will take turns helping backstage with sound and such during shows (we could also use help on posters, as you maybe can tell). Beginners who want to will also have the chance to do opening sets for the advanced group. The approach will be highly eclectic; any ideas about performing improv will be explored. Influences will certainly include Keith Johnstone (TheaterSports etc.), Del Close (Harold etc.), ComedySportz, and Lecoq. $1 donation requested to cover room rental (at least until we generate performance revenues).

If you have questions, contact Steve Petersen: 734/669-6241, spetey@umich.edu